The team is based at the International Centre, near Llanelli's railway station, in the first building bought by World Horizons. It is now wholly owned by Nations Trust.

The Nations team run the Robert Jermain Thomas Academy. RJTA trains young potential missionaries from our associated mission movements. The course covers Christian mission, Biblical living, English language, evangelism and personal character development, etc..

There are strong growth possibilities for the academy, and plans are now in place for much of the site to be redeveloped in the near future, to provide more residential, training and administrative space. We await God's full provision.

On the first Friday of each month we arrange an International Evening for people from other countries who live in and around Llanelli. Local residents also attend. The evening focusses on a meal together – usually with an international 'flavour' – followed by some simple entertainment from our students or visitors.

The team was also responsible for 'Celebration for the Nations', a week-long worship event in Llanelli during the summer of 2007. This drew up to 1300 people to the evening meetings, and around 1000 during the day. About 800 people flew specially from South Korea for the event. In 2008, 'Celebration Summer' is a follow-on event of a different nature. Details are on the Celebration website :

Prayer lies at the heart of our life together, and time is set aside each day. There are also regular prayer times open to all Christians in the locality – contact us for details. Why not join us for our Community Day on any Thursday?

Again, please contact us for details:
